

BRYAN DRINKS FROM LOVING CUP, SAYS HE WON'T RUN AGAIN IF ELECTED

LINCOLN, Neb., July 10.—The sun was up when Mr. Bryan received news of his nomination at 4.30 A. M. to-day. A loving cup was passed around, and Mr. Bryan said: "If elected I shall not be a candidate for re-election."

nominated Mr. Bryan was a noisy one. It lasted from 8 o'clock last night until 4 o'clock this morning—6 o'clock New York time.

Cheers for Bryan.

When Bryan was placed in nomination by Ignatius Dunn, of Newark, there was a demonstration lasting one hour and eleven minutes. Because the Committee on Resolutions was unable to report until midnight the rules were suspended and the nominations were started in advance of the adoption of the platform, with the understanding that the balloting would not proceed until the platform was out of the way.

The convention clock was stopped at midnight in order that the records might make it appear that Bryan was nominated on Thursday. It was a big, noisy night. The proceedings were delayed by oratorical patriots, who insisted on making speeches seconding the nomination, which the delegates and spectators did not want to hear. The best speeches of the night were made by Augustus Thomas, of New York; Ollie James, of Kentucky, and Senator Gore, of Oklahoma.

Under the usual rule New York cast 47 votes for Bryan, although five of the up-State delegates voted for Johnson and one for Gray. The Bryan landslide was overwhelming, the actual vote being 32 1/2 for Bryan, 46 for Johnson, and 16 1/2 for Gray. Two delegates failed to vote.

New York was given a big ovation when Charles F. Murphy put the Empire State in the Bryan column.

BROOKLYNS IN REAL STRUGGLE FOR LAST PLACE

Meet the St. Louis Team in Series for the Cellar Championship.

BATTLING ORDER.

St. Louis, Mo., July 10.—This is the all-important stand in the West for the Dodgers. They have their chance to go skipping out of the all-end position. Four games are to be played, and as matters now stand the Cardinals are but a fraction of a game ahead of the Superbas.

It is to be McIntyre against Lush in to-day's opening. Manager Donovan declares that his team is playing first-class ball and that he is confident of getting up in fifth place before long.

First Inning. Burch got an infield single to sport, Maloney was bumped in the first. Shaw tried for a great catch for Hummel's liner. He caught Maloney off first by a great throw to Koney and Koney threw to O'Rourke, getting Burch and making a brilliant triple play. NO RUNS.

Second Inning. Lush hit and scored. O'Rourke's fumble. Jordan bunted and scored. O'Rourke's fumble. Sheehan sacrificed. Koney, Lumley and Lewis. O'Rourke bled. Burch ran in for a great catch of Lewis's low liner. Byrne grounded to Sheehan. NO RUNS.

Third Inning. McIntyre fanned. Burch skied to Deleahanty. Maloney fouled to Ludwig. NO RUNS.

Fourth Inning. O'Rourke bled to Hummel. Lush singled. Sheehan sacrificed. Koney, Lumley and Lewis. O'Rourke bled. Burch ran in for a great catch of Lewis's low liner. Byrne grounded to Sheehan. NO RUNS.

VICE-PRESIDENTIAL NOMINEE KERN TWICE A LOSER

Candidate Defeated in Race for Indiana Governorship in Two Elections.

Mr. W. Kern was twice a candidate for Governor of Indiana. He is a protégé of Thomas Taggart, formerly Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and has been an active figure in the Democratic politics of Indiana for many years.

Mr. Kern was born Dec. 20, 1849, in Alto, Howard County, Ind. His father was an old-fashioned country doctor, and came originally from Virginia. Young Kern attended the common schools, but was aided in his studies by his father, who was a student of note.

The Lusitania to-day broke all her own and everybody's else record for the long course westward across the Atlantic. When she docked at the Cunard pier this morning she had smashed the best previous time for a single day's run, the best time for a single day's run, and the best time for the whole trip, and wasn't even winded, as the sporting writers would say. Besides all of which, she established herself as the only 25-knot passenger vessel afloat, by maintaining an average of one one-hundredth of a knot better than 26. Her time for the trip was 4 days, 19 hours and 36 minutes.

What is more, the vibrations that formerly bothered travelers on the great turbine had almost disappeared, thanks to two new 17-ton four-bladed propellers, which were fitted at Liverpool after the last trip from this side. These propellers, built of manganese bronze, are the biggest things of the sort, like everything else about the giant liner. With her two three-bladed propellers, which are to be replaced soon by the four-bladed kind, they helped her to beat her best previous time for the 2,801 mile run by 22 minutes.

Mr. Kern is a total abstainer. He was a member of the dinner party, at which Vice-President Fairbanks served the famous cocktail.

JUDGE SENDS 39 OFFENDERS TO PRISON IN A DAY

Humphrey, of Queens County, Makes a Record in Passing Sentence.

All records for the delivery of sentences to prisoners were beaten by Judge Humphrey, in the Queens County Court, in Long Island City, to-day when he sentenced thirty-nine prisoners to various terms in Sing Sing ranging from life imprisonment to indeterminate sentences of not less than one year.

To one old-time and often-convicted burglar Judge Humphrey gave a life sentence. He is Robert Winfield, thirty-seven years old, convicted of burglary in the third degree and grand larceny in the second degree.

Stephen J. Ingalls, of Gloucester, Mass., who pleaded guilty to arson as an eighth offense, was sentenced to thirty years in Sing Sing, with hard labor. If he lives to get out he will be seventy years old. His last act of arson was to set fire to several buildings in Bayville, among them on Bay-side Yacht Club, which was burned to the ground.

Robert Mordaunt Nager Bowen, who served fifteen years in the British Navy and was honorably discharged last winter, pleaded tearfully for mercy. His crime was to rob the poor box in St. Bridget's Church, Queens. He got not less than four years and six months and not more than five.

Isaac J. Sherratt, another of the two vandals of prisoners, was surrounded by many influential friends and churchmen when he was led to the bar. He is thirty years old and was the leader of a gang of boys in Brooklyn Manor. His family is one of the oldest and most highly respected in the Richmond Hill district.

He had been convicted of seduction and the complainant, Martha Goldsmith, who sank in the chair with him, was in court with her baby. Sherratt was offered the alternative of marrying the young woman or going to jail. He refused to consider a marriage, reserving his innocence, whereupon the court sentenced him to a year in the county jail.

Charles Tiley, forty years old, who was convicted of a charge preferred by his wife and daughter, was sentenced to three years in Sing Sing, although the daughter and wife who had made the charge, were on their knees and wept hysterically.

The sentences were handed out as well as the prisoners and the marshals before the bar and their cases designated. They had been brought to the court-house in furniture vans. In sentencing many of the prisoners Judge Humphrey said that he was giving them the limit, as he hoped it would have a beneficial effect on the crooks and burglars out of the borough.

Two men entered the home of Mrs. Anna Draback, at No. 11 Ferguson street, Newark, this afternoon and while one held her the other ransacked the place. Three trunks were taken and $75 in cash taken.
